

CIVIC EDUCATION

MISSION

The Philanthropy Roundtable's Civic Education Program connects donors with strategies, organizations, and projects most likely to increase civic literacy and appreciation of core constitutional principles, such as separation of powers, checks and balances, the rule of law, federalism, the equal protection of the laws, the First Amendment, and the fundamental rights and civic responsibilities of American citizenship.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

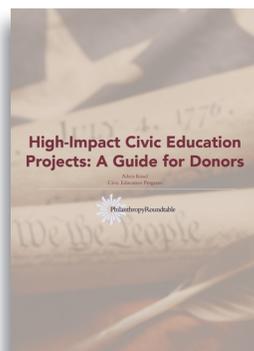

✓ We focus on civics as a lifelong pursuit of exercising the rights and responsibilities of American citizenship.

✓ We focus on the core, unifying principles and knowledge that inspire Americans to maintain the best traditions of the American Republic.

✓ We support the free exchange of ideas so that everyone may better understand different opinions about successful citizenship and governance.

PRODUCTS AND SERVICES

- ▶ Private consultation and customized resources from our team of civic, K-12, and higher education experts for donors interested in making significant gifts to improve civic education in the nation.
- ▶ Access to a network of funders dedicated to advancing the fundamental concepts of American government to maintain justice and opportunity in a free society.
- ▶ Intellectually engaging, solicitation-free, strategic and informational convenings.
- ▶ Just released a guide for donors on high-impact civic education projects.

Visit PhilanthropyRoundtable.org/civic-education to access the civics guide and to learn more about the program.

CIVIC EDUCATION

EVENTS

National Civics Expo

Join us at the National Constitution Center in Philadelphia on May 6-7 for the National Civics Expo, a special event focused on improving civic health in cities across America.

Just before the kickoff of the 2019 Annual Meeting, the Civic Education program hosted a special event, Investing in a Civic Renaissance, which focused on philanthropy's unique opportunities to repair our fractured civic culture.

WHY WE WORK

People who are more informed about our country and our citizenry are going to be better citizens, and if we have better citizens, more informed citizens, we might have a better democracy.

— David Rubenstein at the 2018 Annual Meeting

ROUNDTABLE EXPERTS AT YOUR SERVICE

Adam Kissel joined the Roundtable after working in the U.S. Department of Education to lead this program in cooperation with the Roundtable's K-12 Education Program.

Adam Kissel

Director of Civic and Higher Education Programs

akissel@PhilanthropyRoundtable.org

202.600.7916

Katherine Haley

Senior Director of K-12 Education Programs

khaley@PhilanthropyRoundtable.org

202.600.7893

Pat Burke

Assistant Director of K-12 Education Programming

pburke@PhilanthropyRoundtable.org

202.600.7874