

HEALTH

MISSION

The Philanthropy Roundtable's Health Program explores strategies donors can support to help Americans achieve better health and wellbeing, with a focus on mental health, medical education, and innovation in health and health care.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

We are committed to improving the health and wellbeing of Americans across the country. We place special emphasis on initiatives that serve poor, underserved, or rural Americans.

We emphasize ground-up innovations in policy and practice that draw on principles of competition and choice and result in lower costs and better outcomes.

We support philanthropists' diverse initiatives and perspectives in achieving change according to their own missions and in their own local communities.

EVENTS

Join us in Austin, Texas on November 5-6 for Philanthropic Strategies for Strengthening Medical Education, a special event focused on how philanthropists and medical educators can partner to realize a new vision for 21st century medical education.

The 2019 Annual Meeting featured a strategic workshop to discuss philanthropy’s role in addressing mental health needs within the criminal justice system.

TESTIMONIAL

The Philanthropy Roundtable’s Health Program is expanding the traditional definition of health and healthcare to include mental health which is integral to health and wellbeing. The health sessions and mental health forum at this year’s Annual Meeting provided insights to those who gathered to discuss how donors have the power to make real change in the lives of people in their communities.
